

TEXAS STATE REPORT

Underage Drinking Prevention and Enforcement

2018

SAMHSA
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

This State Report is required by the Sober Truth on Preventing (STOP) Underage Drinking Act (Pub. L. 109-422), which was enacted by Congress in 2006 and reauthorized in December 2016 as part of the 21st Century Cures Act (Pub. L. 114-255). The STOP Act requires an annual report “on each State's performance in enacting, enforcing, and creating laws, regulations, and programs to prevent or reduce underage drinking.” As directed by the STOP Act, the State Reports were prepared by the Interagency Coordinating Committee on Preventing Underage Drinking (ICCPUD), which is chaired by the Assistant Secretary for Mental Health and Substance Use, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Time period covered by this State Report: The 2018 State Report primarily includes data from calendar year 2017. The state legal data reflects the status of the law as of January 1, 2017. The state survey data was collected in 2017 and was drawn from the most recent 12-month period in which the states maintained the data.

*Note that in previous years, the numbers and percentages for past-month binge drinking by age group were included in these profiles. These data are not included as a separate category this year. The definition of binge drinking used in the National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) changed in 2015 and insufficient state-level data using the new criteria exist. As more years of consistent data become available, the state profiles will include past-month binge drinking as a separate sub-group of past-month alcohol use. For more information, see <https://www.samhsa.gov/data/sites/default/files/NSDUH-TrendBreak-2015.pdf>.

Program Description: The San Antonio Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse (SACADA) is a nonprofit organization that provides education, youth prevention programs, information resources, and services to prevent alcohol and drug abuse. SACADA serves individuals in Bexar County and 28 surrounding counties in South Central Texas. SACADA is funded by HHSC to deliver youth prevention programs with Universal (YPU), Selective (YPS), and Indicated (YPI) populations, as well as a Community Coalition Partnership Program (CCP), and has a Prevention Resource Center (PRC). All of these programs have alcohol (underage drinking) as a priority.

Additional Underage Drinking Prevention Programs Operated or Funded by the State

Program description: Texas and Texas HHSC currently fund 226 youth prevention programs around the state. These programs are all operated by various contractor/grantees around the state in the 11-HHS regions. In addition, there is a contract for the Statewide Media Campaign. As Texas has identified alcohol (underage drinking) as one of the main prevention priorities, all of these programs identify underage drinking as a priority and deliver such services.

Additional Clarification

No data

Additional Information Related to Underage Drinking Prevention Programs

State collaborates with federally recognized tribal governments in the prevention of underage drinking Yes

Description of collaboration: The Texas Health and Human Services Commission currently funds a Youth Substance Abuse Prevention program with the Ysleta Del Sur Pueblo tribe. Through this contract, the Tribe provides a comprehensive prevention program that includes the six Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP) strategies that serve as best practices when addressing substance use and abuse. These six strategies include: prevention education (curriculum delivery), information dissemination, alternative activities, problem identification and referral, community-based processes, and environmental strategies. This program targets youth selected specifically for the program based on an increased risk of substance use and abuse. The core strategy—prevention education—is delivered through Positive Action, an evidence-based curriculum approved by the National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP) to youth ages 6-18 in grades 1 through 12.

Additional collaboration is desired with both the Kickapoo Traditional Tribe of Texas and the Alabama Coushatta. HHSC is currently seeking to draft a Memorandum of Understanding with both of these tribal nations.

State has programs to measure and/or reduce youth exposure to alcohol advertising and marketing No

Description of program: Not applicable

State has adopted or developed best practice standards for underage drinking prevention programs Yes

Agencies/organizations that established best practices standards:

Federal agency(ies): The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration Yes

Agency(ies) within your state: No

Nongovernmental agency(ies): No

Other: No

Best practice standards description: Substance abuse prevention programs used by our state offer a comprehensive approach that follows the six CSAP strategies outlined above. Programs focus a majority of effort on providing prevention education through evidence-based curricula, and also provide problem identification and referral services, information dissemination (targeted on alcohol, tobacco and other drugs), alternative activities, community-based processes, and environmental approaches. In addition, all of the prevention services delivered in Texas follow the Strategic Prevention Framework.

Additional Clarification

Texas has a Behavioral Health Strategic Plan that establishes three main priorities: alcohol (underage drinking), marijuana, and prescription drugs. In addition, education, information, activities, and presentations are also provided on tobacco and other behavioral health and substance use-related topics.

State Interagency Collaboration

A state-level interagency governmental body/committee exists to coordinate or address underage drinking prevention activities Yes

Additional Clarification

Texas' community-based programs (e.g., community coalitions) and school-based programs (e.g., youth prevention programs) may provide services focused on underage drinking to all areas of the community, including institutions of higher learning, youth in juvenile justice programs, and child welfare programs. Our community coalitions have a targeted age-range of college-aged youth/adults and spend resources to educate, mobilize, and affect change for that community. In addition, our youth prevention programs may conduct education programs utilizing an evidence-based curriculum in the juvenile justice system or with youth who are in welfare programs. It would be difficult, however, to determine the exact dollar amounts spent on those activities.

In addition to the state expenditures on underage drinking prevention reported in the annual STOP Act Survey, all states receive federal funds for substance abuse prevention through Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Block Grant (SABG) funds, administered by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). Exhibit 1 shows the sources that Texas used for expenditures on substance abuse prevention and treatment in 2017. As indicated, SABG funds and state funds account for the largest sources (79.0 percent and 20.1 percent respectively).<sup>33</sup>

States submit Behavioral Assessment and Plan reports that include their priorities for use of SABG funds, as well as planned expenditures. For FY 2018-2019, Texas designated prevention of substance abuse among adolescents and college students as part of the number one priority for use of SABG funds.<sup>34</sup>
